Officials on toes to combat dengue

DC directs Health Officers to gear up to fight disease; meeting with private hospitals on June 8

DC D. Randeep being explained about Aedes Aegypti mosquito larvae by District Vector-borne Disease Control Officer Dr. Chidambara during a meeting this morning.

Mysuru, June 6 (RK&BCT)- Officials from the District Health Department and the health wing of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) are on their toes to prevent the spread of killer dengue that has already created panic in city.

In the wake of cases of high fever being reported from across the city, especially from Janatanagar, Neelakantanagar, Jayanagar, J.P. Nagar near the Sewage Treatment Plant, Kesare, R.S. Naidunagar, Udayagiri and K.G. Koppal, D. Devaraj Urs Colony J.P. Nagar, Mysuru Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep held a meeting at his office this morning where health officials from the district, Mysuru taluk and MCC were directed to combat the diseases effectively.

At the meeting, apart from a power-point presentation on the dengue situation in city, officials demonstrated how Aedes Aegypti mosquito carries dengue virus breeds and the causes for the spread of the disease. A total of 71 cases of dengue have been reported from across the district since January this year.

Addressing the officials, Deputy Commissioner Randeep said that officials must accord priority to prevent the spread of all vector-borne diseases. He told them to follow protocol to control the disease and take immediate measures including fogging, prevention of water stagnation in houses and public places, MCC toilets and other vulnerable areas.

(See DENGUE on page 8)

Dengue, its cause & prevention

- A disease caused by female Aedes Aegypti mosquitoes.
- Also known as 'break bone fever', these mosquitoes bite during day.
- Open water containers and stagnant water are the main breeding places.
- Common symptoms: High fever, severe headache, pain behind the eyes, nausea and vomiting, swollen glands, muscle and joint pain and skin rash.

Prevention tips

- Turn over empty containers without lids so that they do not collect water. If the container cannot be emptied, cover it well when not in use. Discard empty coconut shells, old tyres as they collect rainwater.
- Clean out empty flowerpots and do not over-water potted plants.
- Do not have any stagnant water around the house.
- Make sure windows and doors screens (mesh) do not have any holes. Always sleep under a mosquito net.
- Empty and clean water trays of coolers and air conditioners regularly.
- Use natural repellents like lemon eucalyptus oil, lavender, neem and cinnamon oil.
- Plants with mosquito repellent properties like feverfew, citronella, catnip and lavender could be planted around the house.
- Keep your surroundings clean and wear protective clothes.

Panel begins probe

into temporary appointments of non-teaching posts in Varsity

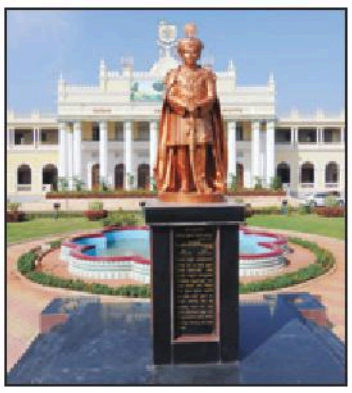
Mysuru, June 6 (RKB&NNN)- The two-member committee appointed by Governor and Chancellor Vajubhai Rudabhai Vala to look into the alleged illegal appointments of non-teaching staff, began its investigation yesterday.

First, to arrive was Prof. Maruti Rao Nimbalkar, Syndicate Member of Rani Chennamma University, who reached the city last afternoon. Immediately, he got the files related to the issue to the place where he was staying. This morning, the other member Prof. Kanubhai Govind Manavi, the former Vice-Chancellor from Gujarat arrived and the two have begun the probe into the illegal appointments.

They also visited the chambers of the Dy. Registrar, here this morning to collect details. Meanwhile, Registrar Prof. R. Rajanna, speaking to SOM, said, "I am in Bengaluru undergoing a training. I will fully cooperate with the probe and whenever I am called, I will be available. We have handed over all the documents relating to the probe."

Acting Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dayanand Mane refused to divulge much and said, "Since I am the one who has written to the Governor regarding the illegal appointments, I cannot talk about it."

According to sources, the appointments were made during the tenure of former Vice-Chancellor Prof. K.S. Rangappa. "These are temporary appointments and under Act 56, the appointments have been made. The VC has the powers to make temporary appointments for both teaching and non-teaching staff and the Syndicate approval is not required for this."



Another source close to the University, pointed out that the acting Vice-Chancellor had gone to receive the members personally. He alleged how the VC, who is the complainant, mingle with the committee members.

Sources said that there were just five or six files containing the names of the 96 people appointed to show to the enquiry committee. In each file, there could be the names of 15 to 20 people appointed.

However, there are talks that apart from the Registrar and Deputy Registrar, some of the Syndicate members, the former Vice-Chancellor and the Acting Vice-Chancellor could be called for enquiry in the coming days.

Glorifying days gone-by

Every generation has its ways and characteristic tastes in the matter of attiring, food habits, hair styles, commuting, communicating, neighbourliness, spending money on essentials as well as non-essentials, preferences in community living, outlook to faiths and tongues of others, choice of occupation for a livelihood, caring or not caring for decency and decor in public spaces, respecting the words of elders in the family, concern for inter-personal relations, to list the commonly-noticed sides to life of people at large. Residents of the then Mysore, now Mysuru, used to be portrayed as people with a laid-back attitude even up to some five decades ago. Whatever has happened to that portrayal of local people, given the considerable influx of people into the city, its old-timers are dismayed at the heightened pace of life caused by the present generation.

Readers of this daily may recall the many articles published in a series not too long ago featuring the city's image in the days past marked by residents walking from their homes to the market, living in single-storeyed houses, shops sans glitz and glitter, attired in keeping with age and status in society and looking satisfied by minimal wants.

Two parameters conspicuously figure in the changed scenario of the city's environs over years namely, its head count and the cash jingling in their pockets, never mind its source. The water shed of the cash at the disposal of people at large is reflected by the fact that the average pay packet of the workforce in the IT sector is more than 15 lakh rupees in a year also a postman's monthly salary is 20,000 rupees. Masons and domestic helps also command comfortable wages. Newspaper delivery boys and civic workers attending to the work of keeping the city clean can be seen commuting on scooters. A visit to any park in the city and also the newly raised malls leaves little doubt about the newfound prosperity, the shoppers unfazed by cluttered car parking lots.

Old-timers are entitled to their pleasure in glorifying the days gone-by. So are the people of present generation, accounting for half the population aged less than 35, entitled to enjoy the attractions that life has to offer and with disdain. There is no stopping the ongoing feature of Houses gone, Hotels on, as on many roads of Mysuru.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Was it Mark Twain who said that age is an issue of mind over matter, and that if you don't mind, it doesn't matter? In the course of the chit-chat, one caller confessed that he was old. The special guest's comment was spontaneous: "but you are only 70! It's not old!" Two calls later, another man, in the same age bracket, was emphatic as to why he was living alone and not with his children: "I don't want them to be a burden to me! They have their own things to do. Why should I leave my house and join them? To be on my own there too!?"

There is an 80-plus retired teacher in our neighbourhood. A widower, he has his daughters with him. If somebody mentions that it is good he is living with his daughters, he will immediately flare up and say, "No, it is they who are living with me!"

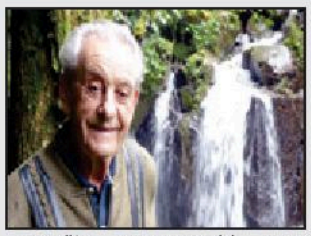
Deer changes hunter's mind

Oviedo: Growing up in the mountainous Sierra de Peña-mayor, in Asturias, northern Spain, Aladino Montes had been shooting deer ever since he was a child, but his life as a hunter came to an abrupt end 10 years ago, when he met Bambi, an adorable fawn that has remained by his side ever since. Aladino has never shot an animal since, and says that he would rather die than take another life.

53-year-old Aladino recalls driving through the mountains in his little jeep, ten years ago, when he spotted a couple of grazing cows being followed by a skinny little fawn. Aladino approached the animals for a closer look. And he noticed that the fawn had several wounds and would have probably died without proper medical care. He put the injured animal in his car and drove back to his house where he nursed to health. But instead of running back towards the forests from which it came, the fawn stayed by Aladino's side, and he didn't have the heart to drive it away. He did it for food, not sport, but ever since he adopted Bambi, he hasn't shot a single animal.

Brazilian man brings forest back to life



Brasília: 83-year-old Antonio Vicente has spent the last four decades of his life fighting against the current. As Brazilian landowners cut down rainforests to make room for profitable plantations and cattle grazing grounds, he struggled to bring the lush jungles of his childhood back to life.

It was 1973 when Antonio took up the challenge of restoring the forest on a 31-hectare piece of land that had been razed for cattle grazing. Ironically enough, he bought the land on the outskirts of Sao Pablo, in Brazil's Sao Paulo region, using credits that the military government was giving out to promote deforestation, But Antonio had no intention of using the money to boost the national agriculture. He just wanted to revive the forest. Over the last 40 years, he has planted an estimated 50,000 trees on his 31-hectare land, which now make up a small oasis of rainforest, and a sanctuary for wildlife.

Be cautious of Vitamin C dosage

Sir,

The 'Health Capsule' regarding Vitamin C published in Star of Mysore recently appears to substantiate the notion that higher dose of Vitamin C will result in good health and longevity of life. The above notion is only partly true. There is no doubt that Vitamin C is an excellent anti-oxidant but it acts as a double-edged sword.

It is believed that when it scavenges oxy radicals, at the end of the radical chain it turns into a radical itself. Thus it may cause harm as a radical.

In the light of the above, it is worthwhile to remember our ancient saying, "Even the nectar at high amounts may turn into poison." There is no reason to believe that higher the dose, higher the benefits. Hence, all the fallacies and fads should be approached and interpreted with caution.

71 dengue cases reported in Mysuru since January 2017

Mysuru, June 6 (SBD&DM)- Even as Health authorities are taking measures to prevent the outbreak of vector borne diseases, a total of 71 cases of dengue have been reported from across the district since January this year.

According to District Vector Borne Diseases Control Officer Dr. Chidambara, in all, 464 blood samples were tested for dengue, out of which 71 was confirmed positive since January this year when compared to 123 at this point last year.

Dengue scare is high in crowded localities such as Janata Nagar, Neelakantanagar Jayanagar, Udayagiri and K.G. Koppal. Hospitals, Diagnostic Centres and Private Pathology Labs are getting hundreds of blood samples every day to test samples for dengue and other vector-borne diseases.

With the number of dengue cases increasing, the blame is on lack of co-ordination between the Health and Family Welfare Department, local bodies, private hospitals and diagnostic centres, coupled with the negligence of citizens.

The Aedes Aegypti mosquito which carries dengue virus is normally active during the day. The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), which has launched a full scale 'Swachh Bharath' campaign in city, seems to have forgotten its role in containing the spread of this deadly disease. Garbage dumps along the roads and vacant spaces, overflowing drainages and uncovered drainages have become mosquito breeding centres, say officials.

Though the MCC has deployed autos, tippers and tractors for garbage clearance, most of the wards are dotted with overflowing garbage bins in the absence of daily clearance.

Dr. Chidambara says that unhygienic conditions are the main cause for dengue spread. He said that water tanks, drains, barrels and other water containers should be cleared once a fortnight. Also it is necessary to ensure that there is no water stored in tyres, coconut shells, flower pots, broken glass bottles, open plastic bottles and cups and the like, as these turn into mosquito breeding centres.

He said that blood samples for suspect dengue cases must be tested as per ELISA (Enzyme Linked Immunosorbent Assays) procedure. As this type test needs sophisticated equipment, it takes some time to issue blood test reports. Also, the ELISA testing method is not generally available in private hospitals or labs, other than at the district surveillance lab.

Usually, private labs resort to Rapid Card Test, which is not all that dependable, as nearly 60 percent of the reports have proved wrong. He said that the action can be taken against private hospitals for using unreliable means of blood testing and wrong reports.

World Environment Day

3,000 seed balls planted at Chamundi Hill

MP Pratap Simha, MLA G.T. Devegowda, DC D. Randeep, Deputy Conservator of Forests V. Karikalan and other volunteers at the Seed Ball Planting Drive at Chamundi Hill here yesterday.

Mysuru, June 6- On the World Environment Day yesterday, the iconic Chamundi Hill witnessed a 'Seed Ball Bombing' where more than 3,000 Seed Balls were planted. They were planted in and around the Chamundi Devi Vana at the foothills.

The event was organised by the Mysuru District Administration, Forest Department and a group of NGOs led by Clean Mysuru Foundation.

According to Clean Mysuru Foundation, the objective of seed ball planting is to create an evergreen canopy around Chamundi Hill at a faster rate by promoting mixed tree culture that can provide shelter to many small animals and birds for natural growth of trees in future.

By creating green canopy of shrubs and plants in Chamundi Hill environs, soil fertility can increase along with improving soil moisture capacity. It can also fight against the local/global climate change happening at a faster pace.

The Foundation has nearly 70,000 Seed Balls ready for sowing and it has a long-term objective of planting at least 5 lakh Seed Balls in and around the Hill to increase the green cover. President of the Foundation Dr. C.G. Betsurmath said that they had set a target of readying 5 lakh seed balls before the end of monsoon.

Seed Ball culture is a natural process of increasing the green canopy in urban environments at all open places. Once the Seed Ball germinates, it does not need any care for its growth and is able to adjust naturally creating a sustainable/natural forest growth.

As the success rate of Seed Ball propagation is around 50%, the Clean Mysuru Foundation is associating with other organisations and institutions to achieve 80% success rates by inserting the Seed Ball in a 4-inch pit and covering the Seed Ball with surface soil after placing them. Seed Ball clouding or throwing will be done only at places which are inaccessible.

Mysuru Zoo

Sri Jayachamarajendra Zoological Garden held a day-long programme as a part of the World Environment Day celebrations yesterday. Students from various schools across the city visited the Zoo and took part in events organised to create awareness on many issues related to environment. They also took part in the signature campaign in which they promised to protect the environment and also create awareness.

The children also enjoyed their day spending time with 'Chamundi,' the one-year-old Elephant calf. They went around the Zoo with the elephant which attracted many visitors.

Zoo Executive Director K. Kamala Karikalan, who accompanied the students, explained about the animals housed in the Zoo. The students also planted saplings at the Zoo premises and also took part in the drawing and painting competition.

Naming ceremony

Anjali, a student of Srikanta School, named the newly-born Zebra calf as 'Sanavi.' Meanwhile, Suma, the school teacher, named the two Giraffe calves as 'Sribharath' and 'Gowri'.

Children take a stroll with 'Chamundi,' a one-year-old elephant calf, during their visit to the Zoo yesterday.

RDPR staff to pay a month's salary for Panchayat Raj Bhavan?

Govt. plans Panchayat Raj Bhavan at Jakkur; to ask Gram Panchayats and RDPR employees to contribute

Bengaluru, June 6- A decision by Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Department to ask its employees to donate their one month's salary to construct a Panchayat Raj Bhavan at Jakkur in Bengaluru has created a new controversy. As per the decision, each Gram Panchayat will have to contribute Rs. 50,000 each for the Rs. 47.45 crore.

Nagalambika

At a meeting of senior officers held in Bengaluru on May 23, N. Nagalambika Devi, Principal Secretary to the RDPR Department, it was revealed that the State Government was planning to construct the 11-storeyed Panchayat Raj Bhavan in Jakkur at an estimated cost of Rs. 47.45 crore. CM Siddharamaiah has allotted only Rs. 5 crore in the 2017-18 Budget for the Bhavan. A note by Nagalambika on the meeting proceedings says as the Central Govt. did not give enough grants, the State Govt. will go ahead, mobilising its own resources. And for this, the meeting decided to collect one month's salary of the RDPR Department staff for the building.

It was also decided to collect Rs. 50,000 from each of the 6,027 GPs in the State. GPs with a revenue of Rs. 10 lakh and above will have to pay Rs. 50,000 in one go while others can pay in two or three instalments.

"If we collect Rs. 50,000 from all 6,027 GPs, we can mobilise Rs. 30.13 crore. We were also told to use the unutilised Rs. 3.09 crore allocated under the Backward Regions Grant to Abdul Nazeer Saab State Institute for Rural Development," official sources said.

The issue has not been taken lightly by the RDPR Department employees who have said that the Government move asking them to contribute their one month's salary was illogical. "If the Congress Government can spend crores of rupees to publicise its '4-year achievements' it can as well spend Rs. 47.45 crore for the Panchayat Raj Bhavan," said a Department employee.

Opposition Leader Jagadish Shettar has slammed the move saying many GPs themselves are short of funds. "How can the Government ask for donations from them? Why funds from the CM's special grants can't be utilised," he asked.

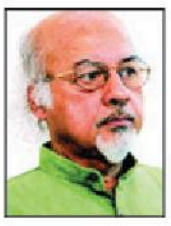
BJP approach to cattle trading will hurt the economy; but who cares since the idea is to create vote banks



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

It's clear: The cow dominates India. The world is changing in radical ways and life-and-death issues confront our country — GST's impact on everyday life, the 'dirty war' in Kashmir, rising attacks on women, crisis in the IT industry, tensions with China. But none of them gets the national attention the cow gets. It is as though the country is meant only for cow worshippers and cow eaters. Religion is the key here as it is in all policy matters nowadays.

(Before we go any further, it is important for this writer to make what is called a disclaimer. I do not eat meat. Of any kind. Can't even stand the sight of it dangling from hooks in wayside stalls. In school days I was in love with Lakshmi, one of three cows in the family shed. She was a real beauty, plump and wholesome and shining deep brown and aglow with a smile, I thought, when she saw me. No one worshipped her, except me, only that my worship was that of a lover).

The most important thing we should know about today's cow debate is that it is not rational. It is emotional and political. This is because the BJP in power believes that it can alter the country's DNA. Remember that legislation for cow protection need not be aggressive. The Karnataka Prevention of Cow Slaughter and Cattle Preservation Act, is dated 1964, when Congress stalwart Kengal Hanumanthaiah was the Chief Minister. Note that it specified cow, without hiding behind terms like cattle as now.

The BJP has given the issue a combative, party-oriented twist. This comes through disastrously in the violence unleashed by cow rowdies: Lynching a citizen on mere suspicion, flogging Dalits who skinned dead cattle as per tradition, beating to death a dairy farmer taking his cows home, an activist attacking a student in IIT-Madras for eating beef. That such crimes are committed before cameras and then publicised, shows that the criminals are sure of support from law-enforcers. On the record so far, they are right.

No wonder that reason has no chance and partisan emotionalism wins the day. Historian D.N. Jha's 2001 book Holy Cow: Beef in Indian Dietary Traditions was a scholarly study. But even before it was out, Hindutva forces declared war. The Government banned the book and the author, facing death threats, was obliged to take Police protection. Jha had merely quoted chapter and verse to show that Hindus ate beef in the past.

With the same belligerence with which they attack the facts of the past, communal partisans reject the realities of the present. The economics of cattle farming are of existential importance to India. Farmers who rear cattle must have the facility to sell them at will, hence the thousands of cattle markets in the country.

Wouldn't a national programme to promote vegetarianism have been wiser than an arbitrary ban on traditional cattle business? Given the increasing popularity of vegetarian diets across the world, India could play a leadership role in such a programme as it did in the case of Yoga. That would have indirectly led to cow protection as well. Such constructive thinking can of course, have no scope if the intention is to divide people and create vote banks.

A productive cow (useful in agriculture and dairy work) can get half-a-lakh of rupees in the market. Once productivity stops, the bovines have no value except in the meat market. To deny this is to hit farmers below the belt.

Farmers who cannot sell cattle profitably, will stop rearing cattle (providing 20 kg of fodder to an animal means Rs. 150 a day to the farmer.) At the same time, the population of stray cattle will increase. This is already visible in Maharashtra and Haryana where the BJP has banned beef. There are no organisations with the ability and the willingness to run goshalas for the tens of thousands of cows that roam shelterless. And what of the industries dependent on various parts of cattle — skin (India's leather exports earn $6 billion a year), bone, horns, tail-hair, blood? And the employment given to traders, middlemen, transporters, tanners, cooks? From no angle relevant to the progress of a nation is a cattle trading ban justified.

It is not justified even from the point of view of Hindus en masse; many non-Brahmin Hindus are meat eaters. Just as many non-Hindus are vegetarian.

Wouldn't a national programme to promote vegetarianism have been wiser than an arbitrary ban on traditional cattle business? Given the increasing popularity of vegetarian diets across the world, India could play a leadership role in such a programme as it did in the case of Yoga. That would have indirectly led to cow protection as well. Such constructive thinking can of course, have no scope if the intention is to divide people and create vote banks. The cow has been reduced to a political tool — an insult to its holiness.

Illegal mining: Activist files complaint against Mandya MP Puttaraju & 11 others

Mandya, June 6- Accusing Mandya MP C.S. Puttaraju of mining illegally in forest area, Social Activist K.R. Ravindra has lodged a complaint against the MP and 11 others with the Lokayukta.

While the complaint has been lodged against MP Puttaraju and his brother C. Ashok, a Zilla Panchayat member, for illegal mining in forest area, the names of Deputy Commissioner (DC) S. Ziaulla, Superintendent of Police (SP) C.H. Sudhir Kumar Reddy, ZP CEO B. Sharath, Mines and Geology Department Geologist K.M. Nagabhushan, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) S. Dhananjay, Pandavapura Range Forest Officer (RFO) M.N. Munikrishna, Nagamangala Sub-Division Assistant Conservator of Forests (ACF) Puttaswamy, Pandavapura Tahsildar D. Hanumantharayappa, Pandavapura Assistant Commissioner B.C. Shivanandamurthy and department officers and staff has been mentioned in the complaint.

Ravindra has stated that illegal mining is being carried out in 2016.02 acres at Amruth Mahal Kaval Survey No. 1 in Pandavapura taluk (1487.27 acre), Chinnakurali hobli, Chinnakurali village Survey No. 80 (228.06 acre of which 226.29 acre is notified as forest) and Honagahalli Survey No. 127 (301.26 acre of which 256.26 acre is notified as forest).

Though the Government has declared Amruth Mahal Kaval as forest area, the Mines and Geology Department had given the land for mining. As per the order of the Deputy Commissioner on Oct. 31, 1995, Survey No. 80 in Chinnakurali is reserved as forest land, but the Chinnakurali Gram Panchayat (GP) and the Revenue Department have illegally given permission for mining, which is going on till now. Even the Honagahalli Gram Panchayat, without seeking permission from the Forest Department, has permitted illegal mining in the area.

How illegal mining began

When MP Puttaraju was the Zilla Panchayat President in 1994 and Pandavapura MLA in 2004 and 2008, his (Puttaraju) elder brother Chikkaramegowda was Chinnakurali GP President and later his son C. Ashok became the GP President. During this time, Ravindra alleged that they started 'MSTJ Stone Crushers' and also got approval from the Mines and Geology Department through political influence to take up mining activity in Amruth Mahal Kaval Survey No. 1 near Baby Betta in 10 acres on July 5, 2003 for 10 years and procured a stone mining contract on Nov. 11, 2003 on five acre and 20 guntas.

The Mines and Geology Department also gave permission to 'STJ Stone Crushers', owned by Chikkaramegowda's other son C. Shivakumar for mining on three acres and 10 acres respectively on Apr. 30, 2007.

Ravindra said that in 2014 Lok Sabha elections, MP Puttaraju had declared that he and his wife had invested Rs. 19,87,711 in 'STJ Stone Crushers' and alleged that Puttaraju since two decades is involved in illegal mining in forest areas in Chinnakurali and Honaganahalli.

He said that the scam came to light as there was suspicion about officials of the Mines and Geology Department allotting mining in 15 acres to C. Ashok and 'Brindavan Crushers' on the same date with the same contract numbers 648 and 649, which led to suspicion. Later, to cover up the violation, the contract date and year were changed, he alleged.

Ravindra, in his complaint said that the illegal mining activities has caused a huge loss to the tune of Rs. 2,500 crore to the State Government and has urged for stringent action against those responsible for the loss.

When Star of Mysore tried to contact MP Puttaraju over phone, he was not available for comments.

Pramoda Devi Wadiyar reacts: "It is my land"

Reacting to the alleged involvement of Mandya MP C.S. Puttaraju, following a complaint by the Mandya-based social activist K.R. Ravindra with the Lokayukta accusing him of illegal mining, member of the erstwhile royal family Mrs Pramoda Devi Wadiyar said that the land where the illegal mining is taking place belongs to the Wadiyar family.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, here this morning, she said, "I had written to the Government about the land which is a private property belonging to us, two years ago and they had promised to look into the matter by passing it on to the authorities concerned."

BACKGROUND

Mrs Wadiyar said that in 1947 when the princely states acceded to India, Mysore royalty was also one of them. Accordingly the then Maharaja Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar had many private properties in his possession and the Amrut Mahal Kaval in Mandya district (which earlier was under old Survey No 390 with extent of land 1623 acres that comes under Baby Betta) was also one of them.

Mrs Wadiyar had also visited the place and met MP Puttaraju's people connected with the quarrying. Later, she had sent words asking them to come and meet her. They came and met her. "I asked them to show the documents pertaining to the land and told them that if the documents were legal then I would like to take action. But they went back and continued with their activities."

It was then that she wrote to the then DC Ajay Nagabushan who had come down heavily on the illegal quarrying owners and the quarrying had been stopped.

Asked why the royal family did nothing all these years, she said, "It was not that we were keeping quiet. However, we had other pressing problems, which had to be sorted out first, like the government trying to acquire Mysuru and Bengaluru Palace properties. We first had to have a roof over our head. The successive governments have been hostile to us. It is like hitting our head against a rock," said Mrs Wadiyar.

As Mrs Pramoda Devi Wadiyar became the successor and legal heir after her husband Srikanta Datta Narasimharaja Wadiyar passed away in 2013, she became liable for both assets and liabilities. "I looked into all the properties and I started addressing them one by one. No one else is privy to the information that I have and I have to consolidate all the properties for the future generation. If I don't do it, nobody can," she said.

Mrs Wadiyar said that the Forest Department has also encroached on her private property. When asked that the Department had notified the land, she replied, "Just notifying is not acquiring. It is my father-in-law's private property. The Government should help me protect our property. If government itself acts like this, where do we go?" she wondered.

Good response for 'Trin-Trin' in city

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&VNS)- A couple of days after Chief Minister Siddharamaiah launched 'Trin-Trin', the Public Bicycle Sharing (PBS) sharing system, a total of 110 people have registered to use the facility.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, S.M. Sagar, IT Manager of a private firm implementing the PBS in Mysuru, said that the response had been encouraging with the highest number of registration coming from the docking stations near RTO (West) and City Bus Stand.

He also mentioned the authorities had not received the expected number of registrations near the Zoo and Mysore Palace.

Meanwhile, people seem to be using trin-trin during the early morning and evenings as there were not many bicycles seen on roads in the blazing hot sun.

He asked the MCC officials to ensure that drainages are cleaned regularly and they are cleared of water soon after it rains. The District Health Officer was asked to call a meeting of private hospitals on June 8 (Thursday) to brief them about the measures to be taken if a patient comes to their hospital with fever.

"Private hospitals must be asked to report any suspect cases to the district health office. They must be asked not to disclose dengue cases to the patient and their families unless the disease is confirmed by the government health officials," the DC said, warning private hospitals and laboratories not to spread panic.

Randeep asked the officials to focus on slum areas and said, "We have heard that a few private hospitals are giving false information to patients' relatives about dengue. Unless it is confirmed by the district health department, private hospitals should not issue such statements," the DC said and called for a better coordination between district, taluk and MCC health departments.

The DC said that blood samples for suspect dengue cases must be tested as per Enzyme-linked Immunosorbent Assay (ELISA) procedure. "Private labs resort to Rapid Card Test that is not reliable. As soon as any report of dengue deaths is reported in the media, you must rush to the spot to ascertain the facts and issue a clarification if the death is not due to dengue. If necessary meet the heads of the media to inform facts," the DC said.

District Vector Borne Diseases Control Officer Dr. Chidambara, District Health Officer, District Health Officer Dr. B. Basavaraju, MCC Senior Health Officer Dr. Ramachandra, Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj, District Surgeon Dr. Pashupathi and other officials were present.

Protesters try to offer Go puja in front of CM's residence

Police take 8 ABSS members into custody

Mysuru, June 6- Around eight members including Chethan Manjunath, President, Akhanda Bharatha Seva Sena (ABSS), were taken into custody by Saraswathipuram Police while they tried to offer 'Go puja' to a cow demanding the State Government to implement the Centre's ban on cow slaughter.

The members arrived in front of Siddharamaiah's Ramakrishnanagar residence with the cow and tried to perform the puja and that is when the Police personnel, headed by Saraswathipuram Police Inspector Pooviah, who were present at the spot, stopped the activists and took them to DAR Grounds. Later, the cow was handed over to its owner.

Meanwhile, the sources said that Kumari, owner of the cow, had filed a complaint stating that the activists had taken away the cow while it was grazing near the CM's residence.

Following this, the Police will get the written undertaking from the eight members before letting them free.

Contract Pourakarmikas seek regularisation

Mysuru, June 6 (RKB&DM)- Demanding regularisation of services and scrapping of the Contract system, over 50 Contract Pourakarmikas serving at the MCC and other Local Bodies, under the banner of Karnataka Pragathipara Sanghatane, staged a demonstration in front of the DC's office here this morning.

Claiming that there were about 35,000 Contract Pourakarmikas across the State, the protesters urged the Government to regularise their services and accord statutory benefits.

Mandatory rule to submit birth certificate

Schools record low admission rate

Mysuru , June 6 (SPN&VNS)- The admissions to LKG and I std., in both Government and Private Schools, have dropped considerably after it has been made mandatory to submit birth certificates of children.

This year, the Department of Public Instructions has made 3 years 10 months as the minimum age for admission to LKG and 5 years 10 months minimum age for I std. as per the instructions of the State Government.

It has also been made compulsory to submit the Aadhaar card of the children which has denied an opportunity for parents to change the date of birth of their wards to seek admission. The authorities record the date of birth, in case of a female child, while issuing the Bhagyalakshmi bond.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, DDPI H.R. Basappa said: "Earlier, there were provisions in laws to provide education to everyone on humanitarian grounds. But, now the State Government has enforced strict rules related to admission which had contributed to low admission rates. This has also been brought to the notice of the concerned authorities in the State Government."

A group photo of the Cadets from across the country with NCC Group Commander Col. M.K. Belliappa and other Officers.

Mysuru, June 6- Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya was the venue wherein a mini India was created for a duration of 12 days starting from May 15. The occasion was the National Integration Camp, conducted by 3 Karnataka Girls Battalion NCC, Mysuru, wherein around 600 NCC Cadets both boys and girls from all parts of the country congregated.

The main aim of the camp was to develop close bonds of friendship and bring out greater integration and mutual understanding amongst the youth of various States. The idea was to improve general awareness about States, their historical background, natural resources, development activities in that part of the country, different religious and cultural customs, thus highlighting the aspects of "Unity in Diversity."

The Cadets had come from as far and apart as Nagaland in the North East to Punjab in the North to Gujarat in the West to Tamil Nadu in the South, who lived together, ate together and played together, thereby fostering a sense of togetherness.

CHAMPIONS TROPHY 2017

Rain spoils Australia's bid to victory

London, June 6- After bowling Bangladesh out for 182, Smith's men cruise to 83 for 1 in 16 overs before weather had the final say. In his own words, Steven Smith's men 'got away' thanks to rain against New Zealand in their tournament opener in Birmingham. The London rain gods compensated for that, denying them what seemed like an easy victory yesterday at The Oval in their clash against Bangladesh.

Australia was 83 for 1 in 16 overs, well ahead of the DLS Method par of 39 at that stage, in chase of a paltry target of 183 when rain arrived to kill its chance of gaining full points. All Australia needed was four more overs of play, but much to its agony, it is now left with a must-win clash against England.

On the other hand, it also meant Bangladesh stayed alive in the tournament after taking home one point from the game. Rain was forecast for the evening but for most parts, it seemed like Australia would race ahead of the weather. It did incredibly well to bowl out Bangladesh for 182 in just 44.3 overs and began its chase steadily, despite losing Aaron Finch in the eighth over.

The tone was set early by Starc and Josh Hazlewood with some aggressive pace and tight lines. Tamim tried to break free and got three early boundaries, but once Soumya Sarkar nicked Hazlewood to the wicketkeeper in the sixth over, things went downhill for Bangladesh.

Like England did in the earlier game, Australia's pacers targeted Tamim's ribs and head. The short-ball strategy nearly worked when he gloved and top-edged pulls, but on both occasions, the ball evaded fielders.

Runs were hard to come by too. Only 37 runs came in the first ten overs and the run-rate took a further beating when Imrul Kayes tamely chipped Pat Cummins to point and Mushfiqur Rahim surprisingly chose not to review a leg before decision despite a faint inside edge to Moises Henriques' straight ball.

By the 17th over, Bangladesh was stuttering at 53 for 3 and went through an 11-over period without a boundary.

Even Travis Head, the part-time off-spinner, dominated Bangladesh's batsmen with a tidy spell of eight consecutive overs. The only phase when Bangladesh showed some fight was when Shakib Al Hasan joined Tamim. With Shakib showing hints of resistance, Tamim grew in confidence and counter-attacked against the run of play.

After ambling on to 34 off 64 balls, Tamim took to Henriques in a 16-run over with two fours and a six to reach his fifty off 69 balls. The stylish footwork and quick hands once again seemed in full flow when he lifted Head for two inside-out sixes in the 30th over. But just when the partnership passed 50, Head struck in the same over trapping Shakib leg before despite a review from the batsman.

From there on, it was once again a case of Tamim searching for steady company. He found that hard to get but Tamim fought on, seemingly set for another century in the tournament.

However, he fell five runs short in a rather unfortunate fashion when his trademark whip-pull off Starc resulted in a top edge to fine leg. The rest of the line-up was cleaned up by yorker-machine Starc.

The swift finish gave them a sniff, but some things proved beyond Australia's control.

68th Junior National Basketball Championship

Karnataka boys score over Tripura

Noida, June 6 - The Karnataka boys have been impressive in the 68th National Junior Basketball Championship being held at Noida. On the second day of the tournament the team continued their good show with another imposing victory beating Tripura 83-18 yesterday.

They stormed out of the gates against an under-matched Tripura side, taking the first quarter 35 to 3. This set the tone for the rest of the game as Karnataka cruised to an 83-18 win. Gujarat boys also registered an emphatic victory against Jharkhand beating 67-12.

Four Gujarat players scored in double digits in the blowout win. In the other game Madhya Pradesh beat Jammu and Kashmir 49 to 38, while Uttarakhand topped Bihar 59-40. Defending champions TN boys stunned by Rajasthan. Tamil Nadu boys were on a high after their emphatic opening win yesterday. But they were dealt a reality check today afternoon in their game against an unassuming Rajasthan side.

With Tamil Nadu lacking the services of their star player P. Baladhaneshwar, who recently made it to the India team, there was not much to separate the two sides. Sumit (24 points) and Rajeev (21 points) did the bulk of scoring for Rajasthan, while Tamil Nadu's Shanmugam put up 30 points. The game went down to the wire and clutch free throws by Rajeev gave Rajasthan the 2-point edge to clinch the victory.

Heavyweights Kerala and Chhattisgarh girls faced off for the first time this tournament today afternoon. The first quarter belonged to Chhattisgarh, who built a double-digit lead early in the game. Led by Gulabsha Ali (51 points), Chhattisgarh maintained a healthy lead till halftime. However, in the second half, Kerala mounted a comeback that brought them within single digits in the final minutes. But Chhattisgarh staved off the Kerala run to clinch a thrilling 92-86 win.

The Kerala boys, runners up in the last junior nationals, faced the Delhi team who are usually considered the dark horse at junior tournaments. This turned out to be another nail biting contest, as both teams exchanged blows till the end. Kerala ultimately won 93-83.

Uttar Pradesh teams win

The Uttar Pradesh girl's team pleased the home crowd with a 73-42 win in their opening game against Chandigarh. A strong first half performance ensured a smooth road to the finish line for the UP girls who were led by Vaishnavi's 26 points. Amrit had 19 points for Chandigarh in the loss.

Later, the UP boy's team too pulled away from West Bengal after a close first half, to register their second straight win. Maharashtra girls picked up an easy win today against Haryana 79 to 28, improving their record to 2-0. Haryana, on the other hand, slipped to 0-2 and remained at the bottom of their group.

Malnad State Ranking Badminton

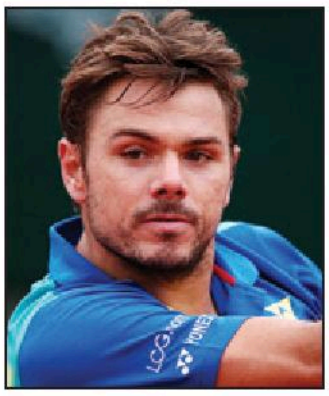
Raghu emerges victorious

Bengaluru, June 6 - Top seed M. Raghu, of Mysuru, won the men's singles title in the Malnad State Ranking Badminton Championship held at Bengaluru on Sunday last.

In the final, Raghu beat unseeded Sai Prateek 21-19, 21-17. Meanwhile, V. Ruth Misha won the women's singles title.

FRENCH OPEN 2017

Wawrinka storms into quarter-final



Rolland Garros, June 6- Third seed Stan Wawrinka booked a place in the quarter-finals of the French Open for the fourth time with a comfortable 7-5, 7-6 (9/7), 6-2 win over Gael Monfils yesterday.

Marin Cilic completed the quarter-final line-up when South Africa's Kevin Anderson retired with a thigh injury trailing 6-3, 3-0. It is Cilic's first Roland Garros last-eight spot while he is the first Croatian to get this far since Mario Ancic and Ivan Ljubicic in 2006.

Seven of the top seeds have made the quarter-finals with Spain's Pablo Carreno Busta playing the role of gate-crasher having knocked out fifth seed Milos Raonic on Sunday.

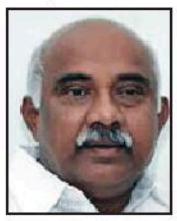
Women's title favourite and 2014 runner-up Simona Halep trounced Spain's Carla Suarez-Navarro 6-1, 6-1 to make the last eight without dropping a set or breaking sweat. Third seed Halep, who can become the new world number one if she wins the title, claimed her first win on clay in six attempts against the Spaniard.

The 25-year-old Halep will take on fifth seed fifth seed Elina Svitolina of Ukraine for a semi-final place. Svitolina reached the quarter-finals for the second time, ending the dream run of world number 290 Petra Martic with a 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 win.

However, Martic, bidding to become only the 10th qualifier to make the last eight in Paris threw away a golden chance for victory. The 26-year-old led 5-2 in the final set before Svitolina rallied to race away with the last five games.

Later Monday, Czech world number two Karolina Pliskova, also in the running to become both a first time major winner and the new world number one, faces Veronica Cepede Royg in her last-16 tie. Cepede Royg, ranked 97 in the world, is only the second Paraguayan to make the fourth round of a major.

CM spoke only 25% truth at mega Cong. convention: Vishwanath



Vishwanath

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&DM)- Lashing out at the Siddharamaiah Government for failing to honour the UPSC Civil Services rank holders at the 'Kotta Maatu Ditta Sadhane' convention in Mysuru on Saturday, former MP A.H. Vishwanath claimed that none of the bureaucrats at Karnataka Bhavan in New Delhi, where the country's top most ranker in the Civil Services exam K.R. Nandini from Kolar was working as an Engineer, had bothered to congratulate her for her great achievement.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Vishwanath, referring to Siddharamaiah Government's convention at Mysuru on Saturday, marking four years of power in the State, said what the CM had told at the convention was only 25 percent true and the rest 75 percent was false.

Accusing Siddharamaiah of fooling Dalits, the former MP said that he wanted to know what was the 165 pre-election promises made and the 155 promises fulfilled by the Congress Government after coming to power, as claimed by the CM.

Maintaining that he was not invited for Saturday's convention under the pretext that he was not a sitting Legislator or MP, Vishwanath wondered whether Sunil Bose, son of PWD Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and Dr. Yathindra, son of CM Siddharamaiah, who were found seated in the front rows of the dais, were elected representatives.

Taking exception to the absence of AICC President Sonia Gandhi, Vice-President Rahul Gandhi and other senior Congress leaders, Vishwanath claimed that Siddharamaiah, who has been continuously ignoring senior leaders, had hijacked the Congress. He further said that no Government which has held a convention to trumpet it's performance, had come to power again.

Reiterating that Siddharamaiah had said only 25 percent truth while addressing the Saturday Convention, he said it was important to check whether the schemes announced by the Government reached all the targeted beneficiaries.

Replying to a question on reports of his joining the JD(s), the former MP expressed his dilemma by singing a song from one of Dr. Rajkumar's films.

Maintaining that he had not yet decided on quitting the Congress, Vishwanath claimed that former Congress party in-charge of Karnataka Digvijay Singh had planned to expel him from the party. But the change in the State party in-charge, had delayed his expulsion, he said.

Denouncing the efforts to weaken the Lokayukta, Vishwanath said that the constitution of Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) is costing the State Rs.1,000 crore a year and this was a heavy burden on the State exchequer.

WORD OF THE DAY

Abdicate

Meaning: To renounce a throne, high office, dignity, or function.

Examples: "[The Duke of Windsor] abdicated the throne of the British Empire but remained king of men's style all his life. One of his great tricks was to elevate humble or casual trends and fabrics." — Nicholas Foulkes, Newsweek, 2 Sept. 2016. "... while dining at the restaurant Daniel in New York City, I asked Raj Vaidya, the head sommelier, to pick a red wine for my main course.... I don't abdicate this sacramental responsibility lightly, but Vaidya knows my taste, and he almost invariably comes up with something special." — Jay McInerney, Town & Country, 1 June 2015.

Origin: English includes many words for the process of throwing in the towel, especially for relinquishing a job or elected office. Abdicate, a derivative of the prefix ab- (meaning "from," "away," or "off") and the Latin verb dicare (meaning to "proclaim"), has been used primarily for those who give up sovereign power or who evade a very serious responsibility (such as parental responsibility). Renounce is often used as a synonym of abdicate, but it adds to that term the suggestion that an individual is giving up something as a sacrifice to achieve a far greater end. Resign is another option when you are describing a more matter-of-fact departure from a job, office, or trust.

THE ODD WORD

Xanthic

Yellow; yellowish

IDIOM OF THE DAY

Mad as a hatter

Meaning: To be completely crazy.

Origin: No, you didn't already know this one, because it didn't originate from Lewis Caroll's Alice in Wonderland. Its origins date from the 17th and 18th centuries — well before Lewis Caroll's book was published. In 17th century France, poisoning occurred among hat makers who used mercury for the hat felt. The "Mad Hatter Disease" was marked by shyness, irritability, and tremors that would make the person appear "mad."
